

PRESS RELEASE

CPM Partners and AMCO Solutions Join Forces To Build a Leading, Multi-Vendor Corporate Performance Management Platform for the Office of the CFO

Geneva, Amsterdam & Copenhagen, March 24th, 2026

UNITED BY VISION

CPM Partners, an EMEA-based multi-vendor Corporate Performance Management (CPM) consulting group, and AMCO Solutions, a leading OneStream specialist with a strong global delivery footprint across EMEA and APAC, today announced that they are joining forces to create an expanded CPM platform dedicated to driving performance for the office of the CFO.

The combined group will bring together over 450 CPM professionals across EMEA and APAC, with scaled delivery capabilities across a broad portfolio of CPM technologies and services.

In a rapidly transforming finance landscape – where CFOs must deliver faster insights, stronger governance, and higher reliability – the combined group will provide options across a range of the leading CPM ecosystems, allowing customers to choose the solution that provides the most value to their business, supported by deep expert benches and consistent delivery standards.

Together with Satriun and Inplenion the combined organization strengthens delivery excellence, expands innovation capabilities and builds a diversified multi-vendor portfolio, across many of the leading and fastest growing CPM ecosystems, including OneStream Software, Wolters Kluwer CCH Tagetik, Pigment, kShuttle, SAP and Oracle, focused on supporting finance transformation across advisory, implementation and managed services.

Beyond technology implementations, the combined organization will accelerate its ambition to serve a broader CFO agenda over time, including CFO Advisory Services such as governance, operating model, as well as data and performance foundations and process excellence, while maintaining a clear priority on client delivery quality

Alex Constantinescu, CEO of CPM Partners: “The combination of CPM Partners and AMCO strengthens our ability to support the Office of the CFO at a time when finance transformation is accelerating, by bringing together talented teams, complementary expertise, and a shared commitment to helping clients navigate a more demanding and fast-evolving finance agenda.

For our people, this opens broader opportunities to develop, collaborate, and build across a larger international platform, while preserving the local proximity, strong teams, and client focus that are core to who we are.

For customers and partners, the message is clear: continuity comes first. Existing engagements remain fully supported. What this combination adds is broader expertise, greater capacity, and a stronger platform for the future”

Pascal Walk, Co-CEO of AMCO: “AMCO has built a strong reputation for OneStream excellence and has a long-standing reputation for customer success & delivery, award-winning OneStream solutions and accelerated development models focused on helping customers to maximize their OneStream investment.

Joining forces with CPM Partners gives us even more scale and breadth to serve larger client agendas, in more geographies, while preserving the business culture and local focus and experts that have made us successful until this point”

Jesper Kamstrup, Co-CEO of AMCO: “This merger means opportunities for our clients, our partner ecosystem, and most importantly our people. Together we can support larger and more complex enterprise programs. We can build a more diversified CPM organization, while staying close to our clients and committed to delivery excellence. Together we can proactively invest in new solutions and services for our customers.”
